

ECOSOL Consultancy Sdn Bhd was formed in July 1995 to provide specialised soil survey, agricultural and environmental services in Sarawak and other parts of Malaysia. This came about as a result of the Government's desire and endeavour to accelerate land development, especially plantation development in Sarawak. At the same time, the legislative requirement for environmental impact assessment (EIA) and the general concern for the environment have generated an increasing demand for consultancy services in the environmental field.

ECOSOL Consultancy Sdn Bhd was formed by a group of agricultural and environmental specialists who have had previously worked in various Government Departments or private companies. They have been directly involved in undertaking agriculture and environment related works, and most of them have devoted more than 30 years of their working time in these fields.
